2023 Season Sponsors

Sponsor Free Shakespeare in the Park in Cupertino!

Due to contracting budget concerns the City of Cupertino has asked SF Shakespeare Festival to fundraise for the Free Shakespeare program. To that end, SF Shakes has launched a fundraising campaign to strengthen the sustainability of this beloved program in Cupertino.

The Cupertino Library Foundation is the first organization to pledge their financial support and additional contributions are being sought - for more information and to donate, visit sfshakes.org/support free shakespeare in Cupertino.

Welcome new Artistic Director Carla Pantoja!

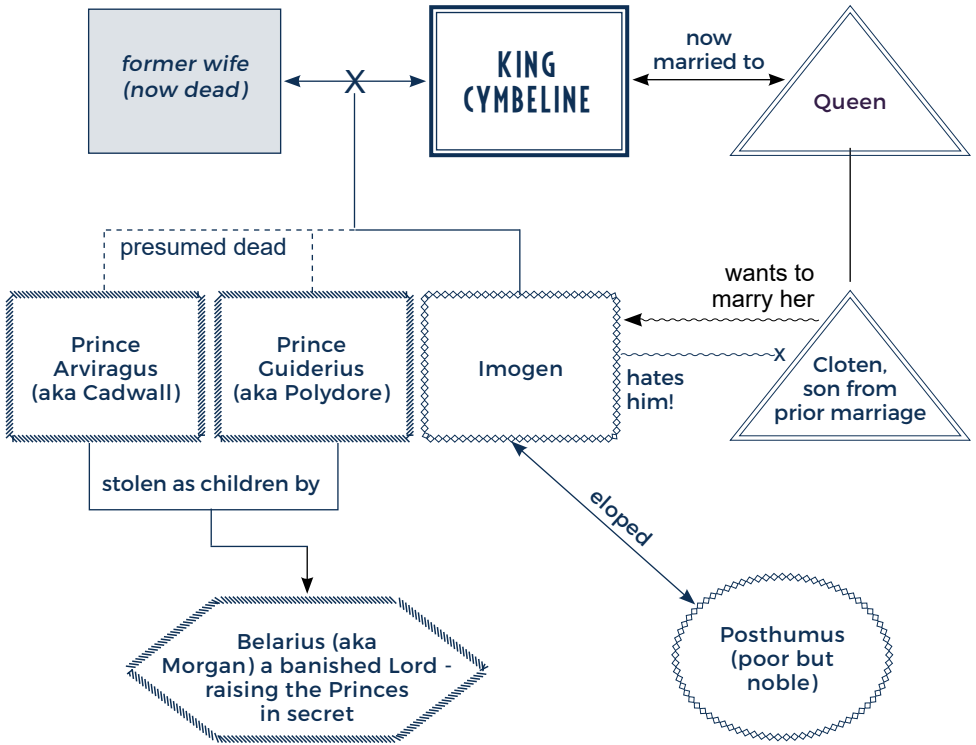

“The mission of SF Shakes is one I am truly committed to,” says Carla Pantoja. “SF Shakes is an artistic home and I look forward to continuing to deepen its connection with Bay Area communities.”

Born and raised in Santa Clara in the SF Bay Area, Pantoja describes herself as a “chunky Chicana mom of two.” She has a 20+-year history with the company, beginning with the Shakespeare on Tour production of Julius Caesar in 2003. Since then she has taught, acted, and directed in many programs of SF Shakes. Memorable roles at SF Shakes include Kate in The Taming of the Shrew and Tybalt in Romeo and Juliet.

Pantoja is also known as a fight and intimacy director, and is Vice President of Dueling Arts International, a non-profit organization devoted to providing comprehensive training for performers, teachers and directors in the art of theatrical combat.

ACCESS

- Cupertino shows begin at 6pm
- Redwood City shows begin at 6pm
- San Francisco shows begin at 2pm
- Orinda shows begin at 4pm

The show runs approximately 90 minutes and there is no intermission.

Seating is first come, first served. Aisles and walkways will be marked. These spaces must be kept clear at all times.

Lawn chairs are welcome in Cupertino, Redwood City, and San Francisco. Signage will designate the areas for tall chairs and short chairs.

Chairs are provided in Orinda - no need to bring your own!

To ensure visibility for all patrons, umbrellas, tents and large shade structures are not allowed. If you arrive late, take care not to walk in front of the stage. Be prepared to sit where you can find space.

The space is accessible for wheelchair users.

Unattended personal items, including bags, blankets, and ground covers may be removed when the show begins.

WHAT TO BRING

A performance may start out warm and get chilly. We recommend wearing layers! There are only a few areas that may get shade. Use sunscreen and remember to stay hydrated. Please bring your own water. Concessions will only be available at the Orinda performances. Blankets and ground covers are recommended for Cupertino, Redwood City, and San Francisco. Blankets may come in handy in Orinda but ground covers are not needed as chairs are provided.

Strollers are allowed, provided they are folded down during the performance and not blocking walkways or in the aisles.

FACILITIES

- Cupertino: restrooms are located behind the amphitheater.
- Redwood City: restrooms are located behind the playground.
- San Francisco: restrooms are located to the left of the stage.
- Orinda: restrooms are located near the concessions area.

TRASH, COMPOST & RECYCLING

Trash, compost and recycling containers are located throughout the park. Please dispose of your trash in the appropriate bin. Pack out what you pack in.

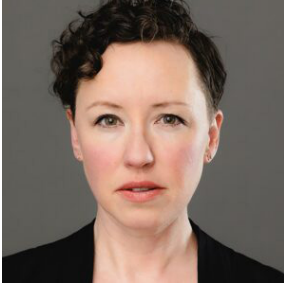

LOST & FOUND

After the performance, call the offices for San Francisco Shakespeare Festival at 415.558.0888. The Festival cannot assume responsibility for lost or stolen items.

DONATE

Click here to donate online, or text 'sfshakes' to 56651 or drop a check or cash donation in the donation box, near the SF Shakes info table.

DIRECTOR'S NOTE

Thank you for joining us for Cymbeline! We appreciate your presence here in the park, in the shared air of this performance setting.

Cymbeline is a late romance, a genre in which Shakespeare combines tropes from his earlier works: you will see elements of comedy, tragedy, and history in this play. You can think of this as late career impressionism where Shakespeare paints in bold strokes to create a fairy-tale like story.

It is a value of SF Shakes to do our very best to represent the communities in which we perform. In this production we affirm that we stand with our LGBTQ+ community in the Bay Area and beyond, and have reimaged our leading man Posthumus as a trans man on a journey of self discovery and acceptance.

When the Resident Artist company of San Francisco Shakespeare Festival chose Cymbeline, we wanted to invite audiences back to the pleasures of in-person theatre. We understand the unique power of sharing an experience in real time. In this 90 minute fast paced and family friendly production, you will experience music, big performances, sword fights, romance, coming of age, and redemption. We hope that it will spur connection and conversation with your fellow audience members.

Thank you for getting out of the house, for joining your community, and for partaking in our shared air.

- Maryssa Wanlass

SYNOPSIS

In this production, Cymbeline is the king of a fantasy version of ancient Britain, under the rule of the Roman Empire. His daughter, Imogen, is in love with her childhood friend Posthumus, who has recently come out as a trans man. Posthumus and Imogen secretly marry without the permission of King Cymbeline. Imogen's stepmother, the Queen, wanted her to marry Cloten - son of the Queen and Imogen's stepbrother. But when Imogen defies their wishes, Cymbeline has Posthumus banished from the kingdom. Before he leaves, Posthumus and Imogen swear their love for one another and exchange a ring and a bracelet.

Posthumus arrives in Italy, where he meets Philario, Iachimo, and a Frenchman, who brag about how beautiful the women in their countries are. Posthumus lets them know he is married to Imogen, who he considers to be the most beautiful and loyal. Iachimo challenges Posthumus to a bet that he can seduce his wife. Posthumus agrees, wagering the ring that Imogen gave him.

Meanwhile, the evil Queen has arranged for her doctor Cornelius to create a deadly poison for Pisanio, the caretaker of Imogen and Posthumus. Cornelius, the court physician, doesn't trust the Queen and gives her a sleeping potion instead. The Queen gives it to Pisanio, telling her it is a healing potion.

Iachimo arrives in England to meet and seduce Imogen. When she rejects him, he comes up with a plan to sneak into her room while she is asleep. While in her bedchamber, he steals her bracelet and notices a mole on her breast. Iachimo uses these details to convince Posthumus that he has won the bet, and Posthumus believes him and gives up the ring from Imogen as his prize. Posthumus, furious with Imogen, sends two letters to Britain: one for Imogen asking her to meet him in Wales, and one for Pisanio, telling her to kill Imogen when they get there. Pisanio takes Imogen to Wales and reveals Posthumus's plan to her. However, Pisanio instead helps Imogen disguise herself as a boy so she can meet with Caius Lucius, a Roman general. Pisanio also gives the Queen's potion to Imogen, thinking it is a remedy. Back at the palace, King Cymbeline and the Queen refuse to pay their taxes to Rome, so Caius Lucius declares war on Britain.

Imogen gets lost in the wilderness of Wales and crosses paths with three rugged Welshmen: Belarius (aka Morgan), a banished noble, and Guiderius and Arviragus (aka Polydor and Cadwal), Cymbeline's two sons that Belarius kidnapped as babies twenty years ago. She does not realize these two boys are her royal brothers. They invite Imogen, who calls herself Fidele, to stay with them in their cave. Imogen is sick from her travel and decides to take the Queen's potion.

Cloten (son of the Queen) soon also appears in Wales. Disguised in Posthumus's clothes, he is looking for Imogen and Posthumus and has terrible plans for both of them. There he encounters Guiderius, they insult one another and fight. Guiderius then cuts off Cloten's head and tosses it into the river.

Arviragus discovers Imogen passed out from the medicine and thinks she is dead, and they mourn her and lay her beside Cloten's dead and headless body. When Imogen awakes, she mistakes the body for Posthumus since he is wearing Posthumus' clothes. She is discovered with the dead body by Caius Lucius, who offers her a position as assistant, which Imogen accepts.

At the court of Cymbeline, the Queen has begun to go mad because Cloten is missing. Posthumus has returned to Britain with the Roman armies but disguises himself as a Briton with the hope of dying in battle against the invaders. However, with the help of Posthumus, Belarius, and the two brothers, the Britons are glorious in battle. Posthumus removes his disguise and surrenders himself to the Britons as a Roman. He is put into prison where he is visited by his parent's ghosts and the god Jupiter, who gives him a message about the future. Iachimo, Lucius, and Imogen are captured and brought to Cymbeline. The Queen, who is about to die, confesses her evil doings to Cornelius, who reports this to Cymbeline. More confessions ensue: Iachimo admits to stealing the bracelet and lying, Posthumus reveals who he is, Pisanio says that she helped Imogen escape, Belarius admits to kidnapping the two Princes, and Posthumus and Imogen are reunited. Cymbeline accepts Posthumus as a son in law. Finally, Cymbeline frees his prisoners and makes peace with Rome.

MARYSSA WANLASS+ (DIRECTOR) (she/they) is thrilled to be directing Cymbeline. They have previously been seen on the SF Shakes stage in Much Ado About Nothing, Pericles, Prince of Tyre, Macbeth, The Winter's Tale, Hamlet, and As You Like It. Other acting credits include As You Like It (California Shakespeare Theatre); Book Club Play, Breaking the Code (Jewel Theatre); Betrayal (Pear Theatre); Much Ado About Nothing, Good Person of Szechuan (Woman's Will). Wanlass is also passionate about social justice theatre and has directed at-risk young adults in Shakespeare plays and taught improv to California's maximum-security inmates. She is currently the Engagement Director for San Francisco Shakespeare Festival.

VANESSA DALPIAZ (ASSISTANT DIRECTOR) (she/her) is a Bay Area director, actor, and teaching artist. She is made her professional directing debut with SF Shakes 2022 production of Much Ado About Nothing and is thrilled to be working with the Festival again. Vanessa is a graduate of Pomona College where she earned her BA in theatrical performance and directing. She also studied Shakespearean performance at the London Dramatic Academy where she worked on a devising team who performed at the Tower of London. Her previous directing projects include both theatrical works and digital media content. She also teaches musical theatre and Shakespeare performances classes for Poison Apple Productions.

NEAL ORMOND (TECHNICAL DIRECTOR/SCENIC AND GRAPHIC DESIGNER/BUILDER, PAINTER, MOVER, SITE SERVICES) (he/him) has been the Technical Director of San Francisco Shakespeare Festival since 2017, serving also as graphic designer, scenic designer, master carpenter, and managing infrastructure and venue logistics. He graduated with a B.A. in Design from Stanford University in 2001. Thereafter he founded NAO Design and spent the next decade expanding into the realms of graphic design, product design, sound design, web design, automotive design, lighting, furniture, signage, pyrotechnics, robotics, and architecture. From there he spent four years as Manager of Art and Technology at the advertising conglomerate Publicis, creating the Art & Tech department to bring new design and production services to 57 offices nationwide. Upon joining the ranks of SF Shakes in 2017 Neal found it to be a tremendous match for all these miscellaneous skills. At the outset of the COVID pandemic Neal developed SF Shakes' "Unified Virtual Space" method of compositing multiple live, remote actors into a shared virtual space onscreen, the first such undertaking worldwide. Future plans include the first-ever production of Shakespeare in Space. For more info see nealormond.com.

SYDNEY SCHWINDT+ (FIGHT CHOREOGRAPHER) (she/her) is an actor, fight director, and teaching artist. She has acted, fight directed, and directed in a variety of productions and programs with San Francisco Shakespeare Festival where she is a Resident Artist. CYMBELINE CREATIVE TEAM

She fell in love with Shakespeare during school and joined San Francisco Shakespeare Festival at the onset of the pandemic in January 2020. In her short tenure of 3 years with SF Shakes she has supported and mastered: fully virtual productions (King Lear), episodic virtual hybrid productions (Pericles), and in-person productions in three different park locations (Much Ado). In her spare time, she produces shorts, commercials, web series, features and so much more!

EMMA WALZ* (AEA STAGE MANAGER) (she/her) is excited to be making her San Francisco Shakespeare Festival debut! She has previously worked with All Puppet Players, The Phoenix Theatre Company, Bay Area Children's Theatre, Berkeley Repertory Theatre, and American Conservatory Theater.

GABRIELLA HOWELL (DECK MANAGER) (she/her) is thrilled to be returning to San Francisco Shakespeare as a member of the Cymbeline team! She started her Bay Area theatre career as a stage management intern for the company's 2016 run of The Winter's Tale and since then has joined SF Shakes the past four years as ASM/Wardrobe Assistant for As You Like It: A New Musical, ASM/Props Coordinator for King Lear, Props/Costumes Coordinator for Takes on Shakes, Props/Wardrobe Supervisor for Pericles, and Deck Manager for Much Ado About Nothing. Other highlights of her past work include stage managing Urinetown at Berkeley Playhouse and Lamplighters' 2019 & 2021 champagne galas.

FRAN ASTORGA (MASTER CARPENTER) (they/them) is a San Francisco local whose administrative and artistic works center the well-being of the community and artistic excellence by working to decolonize approaches, practices, and procedures that negatively impact folx from marginalized communities. Fran works toward their goal by continuously seeking to work alongside those who are asked to assume a role of silence and kindred spirits who enjoy exploring the nuances of identity and perception. Fran upholds that if "all the worlds a stage," then we need to ensure that the world we represent on our stages incites action for the world we need and not the world we need to leave behind. Fran is a founder and co-leader of IN THE MARGIN, a 501(c)(3) arts and advocacy organization. Their full-length play, Exhaustion Aryo, was recently selected and featured in the 2022 Latinx Theatre Commons' Comedy Carnival where their writing was presented as being part of "the best Latinx comedic talent in the country!". Follow them @TheyAreFran on all platforms.

LEE GARBER-PATEL (WARDROBE SUPERVISOR) (they/them) has worked on several productions in a variety of capacities, from backstage to onstage. In their first year as a production intern with the San Francisco Shakespeare Festival, they focused on the costumes and wardrobe department. They are currently in their third year at UC Berkeley, working towards a B.A. in Media Studies, with a double minor in Theatre and Ethnic Studies.

RACHEL BRATT (HOSPITALITY MANAGER) (she/her) is delighted to be returning to SF Shakes for another fabulous summer! Rachel started her journey at SF Shakes in 2017, and has Stage Managed all in-person annual galas since. This is her third year as Hospitality Manager for Free Shakes, and already she can't imagine a summer without it. During the school year, Rachel is the Drama Director for Stratford Schools, which she regards as a fun nod to keeping Shakespeare in her life year-round! She looks forward to welcoming you to the park! Please feel free to stop by the Hospitality table to say hello!

JOLIE OUYANG (LITEARY INTERN) (she/her) is thrilled to be the literary intern for Cymbeline, her first professional show! She grew up in San Francisco and started doing theatre in Georgetown University's Mask and Bauble Dramatic Society and Nomadic Theatre, where she has had the opportunity to work on shows such as Rent, the 37th Donn B. Murphy One-Acts Festival, and Into the Woods. Jolie would like to thank the company for providing her guidance as she gains experience in this career and her family and friends for supporting interest in the field.

CYMBELINE CREATIVE TEAM

ARIANA CHAVEZ-MAGANA (STAGE MANAGEMENT INTERN) (she/they) is a stage management intern who is looking to pursue stage management professionally after graduating from Santa Clara University next year. Ariana is a Psychology, Theater Arts, and Child Studies triple major. They have been interested in theater even since their freshman year of high school after taking a drama class. She is incredibly passionate about bringing the performing arts to under-representative communities and will become a teacher-once she graduates along with continuing to pursue stage management. She is extremely excited to be part of the team, and can't wait for everyone to see the production!

MARION RICHARDSON-BEATTY (STAGE MANAGEMENT INTERN) (he/they) grew up in the Bay Area, and is now studying theatrical production and design at Lewis and Clark College. Their recent stage management work includes Hamlet with Sweet Prince Shakespeare Company, and Rosencrantz and Guildenstern are Dead and Our Town with Lewis and Clark College. He's thrilled to be working with SF Shakespeare this summer!

ROCIO SCHWARZLANDER (STAGE MANAGEMENT INTERN) (they/them) is a 17 year old high school student in San Francisco. They enjoy theater and have been studying technical theater at their school for the past two years. In their free time, they enjoy reading, sewing, and watching horror movies.

POE ANGELES DAYAO (PRODUCTION INTERN-Props/Hospitality) (he/him) is a Bay Area native and an aspiring theatermaker. Going into his third year at UC Davis, he has had the good fortune to be able to expand his knowledge and skills in production, performance, management, and hospitality. He is incredibly thrilled to have the opportunity to grow, learn, and work with SF Shakespeare Festival!

SHREYANSH PANDA (PRODUCTION INTERN-Sound) (pronouns?) is currently a rising senior at Santa Clara University with a Communication Major and a Theater Design and Technology Minor. I began to explore technical theater in my junior year of high school, and after a brief gap continued further in college. My interest in theater is primarily in sound, and I have worked both as a Board Operator and Assistant Sound Designer on SCU productions. I have also worked in the Scene Shop as a Set Builder and have taken on a Stage Management position. I am always eager to learn more about theater and explore new opportunities!

CORA SHIMETZ (PRODUCTION INTERN - Props) (she/her) is a proud graduate of Class of 2023 Theater Tech at Ruth Asawa School of the Arts. She has designed, built and managed props for shows such as Hamlet, Marisol and Urinetown. She is the recipient of the Alumni Promise Award, Certificate of High Honors and California Seal of Bilinguality (Spanish). She is an alumni of multiple SF Shakes Camps and the Advanced Shakespeare Workshop. She loves the art of prop making and is excited to set her skills to work in a professional production! In the fall she will be attending Cal Poly Humboldt to continue her studies in technical theater and beyond.

NATALIE SEPULVEDA (PRODUCTION INTERN-Wardrobe) (they/them) is so excited to join the San Francisco Shakespeare Festival as a wardrobe/costume intern this summer! They first became involved with theater and costuming in fourth grade for a production of Beauty and the Beast. Some of their other favorite shows to help make costumes for have been James and the Giant Peach, Newsties, and The Wizard of Oz. In addition to helping behind the scenes in the costume and wardrobe department for local community musicals, Natalie loves being a part of their high school's Tech Crew which provides sound support for any school event with live music.

ANGELICA MOSQUEDA (HOSPITALITY INTERN) (she/they) is a senior at the University of California, Berkeley, where she pursues dual degrees in Media Studies with a specialized focus in Global Cultural Studies, as well as Theater and Performance Studies. When she is not studying, Angelica makes films with her friends, acts, does photography, and adds to her Pinterest boards. She continues her journey in the performing arts through teaching and uplifting underrepresented creatives through arts, literature, and education. Proud theater kid at heart!

TOBY LEAVITT (EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR) (she/her) joined the company in 1999. After a brief stint in banking, Toby made the unconventional transition to theater producing and has never looked back. Prior to the Festival, she served as General Manager of Chicago's Court Theater. Her accomplishments in audience development have been recognized by the Arts Marketing Center of Chicago and the Marshall Fields Foundation. She received her BA and MBA from the University of Chicago and completed the "Leadership, Organizing and Action" class through the John F. Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University, Executive Education

DID YOU KNOW...

William Shakespeare is believed to have influenced the English language more than any other writer in history, coining—or, at the very least, popularizing—terms and phrases that still regularly come up in everyday conversation. Examples include the words “fashionable” (Troilus and Cressida), “sanctimonious” (Measure for Measure), “eyeball” (A Midsummer Night’s Dream) and “lackluster” (As You Like It); and the expressions “foregone conclusion” (Othello), “in a pickle” (The Tempest), “wild goose chase” (Romeo and Juliet) and “one fell swoop” (Macbeth).

Attention educators: Are you looking to ENERGIZE your classroom?

SF Shakespeare's expert teaching artists will activate your students' creativity, connection, and confidence. Building upon the foundation of your classroom, we facilitate the artistic and personal growth of each student while transforming the group into a fun, engaging, interactive ensemble.

Our Residency and workshop programs are designed to enhance your curriculum and align with the Common Core in subjects such as English, History, and Theater Arts with an interactive series of classes that bring Shakespeare to life for students of all backgrounds and levels of interest. Students gain skill and enthusiasm with programs that are carefully crafted to the needs of your classroom.

Our teaching artists partner with classroom teachers in core curriculum subjects, using arts-based approaches that support state-mandated curriculum and teacher professional development. We can also partner with teachers in theater-related subjects like Acting and Stage Combat in our Theater Residencies.

Bring Shakespeare to life at YOUR school, library, or community center!

For 35 years the Festival's Shakespeare on Tour program has traveled across California to bring a one-hour version of a classic Shakespeare play thoughtfully cut from Shakespeare's original text. Our touring troupe of actors bring sets, props, costumes, and music to enliven their active and engaging performance. At the conclusion of the show the cast will stay for a short Q&A session with the audience. The production is professionally directed and suitable for elementary students through adults. The tour visits more schools and libraries than any other theater group in the state.

Educator's curriculum materials included!

Written especially for teachers these materials readily facilitate an enhanced understanding of the plot, themes, character motives, and language found in Shakespeare's writing. Additionally, a copy of the script the cast is using is provided so that the show you are seeing may be reviewed in advance and contemplated after.

For even more engagement, add a PLAYSHOP!

This active, one-hour, participatory classroom experience will deepen your students' appreciation of the touring show. Imaginative vocal and physical exercises that relate to the play will have your students embodying Shakespeare's language and discovering on their own that it's readily understood as well as relevant.

Next tour starts 2024! (title tba)
